

Middle School History

Curriculum Content

Ever wonder what it was like prior to our modern society? Our Middle School History Curriculum reveals all it revolves around the history of our world which offers three proven approaches to the study of world history: standards-driven global approach, a practical and instructional skills development approach and a reading approach. Our Middle School history program focuses on building fundamental social studies knowledge and skills in the context of an effective reading approach to social studies content. Lessons are designed to establish a solid foundation in history education that will ensure our students' competitive edge to meet the challenges of IGCSE examination in Year 9 and 10. We focus on encouraging students to think critically and to learn to analyse and apply what they have learnt, as opposed to memorisation of facts.
